FOREWORD

School has been a part of growing up. Here we have had many opportunities to learn and to have a good time. CRLS is diverse in its student population, staff, classes, and extracurricular activities. Our years at CRLS have been memorable ones. This yearbook is a special collection of memories which we can reflect upon in the years to come. Time passes quickly and the pictures capture special moments. The yearbook staff has tried to include all the people and all the activities at CRLS. For the seniors, we have tried to focus on your activities, successes and yes some failures. The staff has endeavored to capture the entire school, while spotlighting the CLASS of '82. We hope we have been successful in this effort.

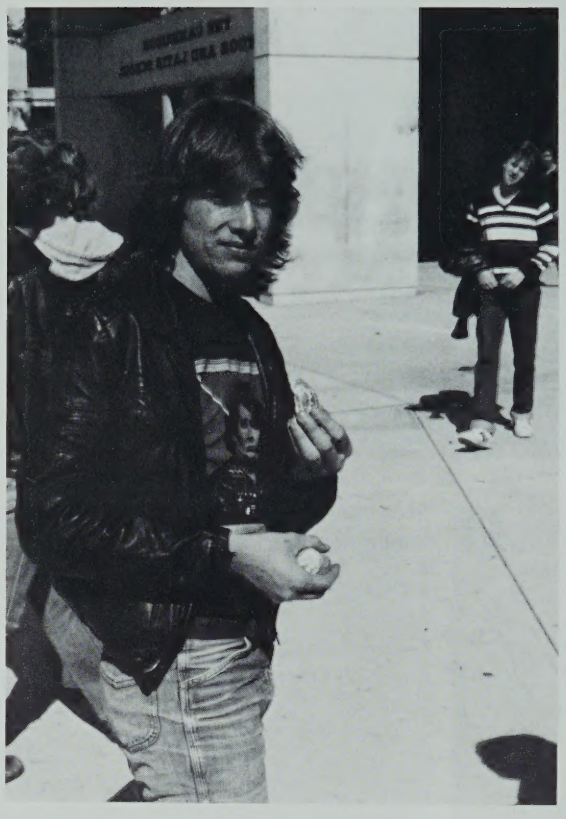
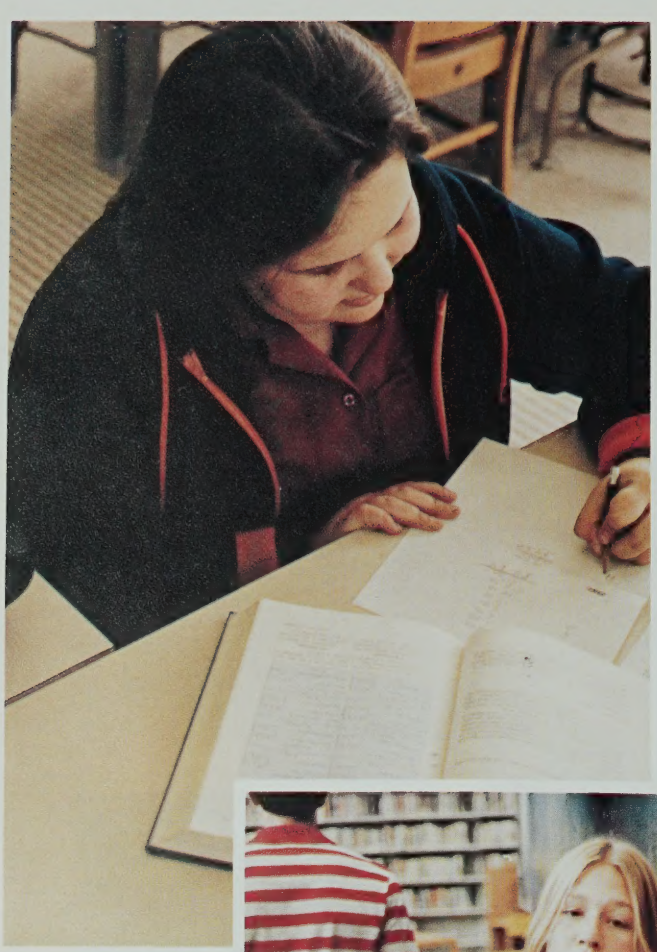
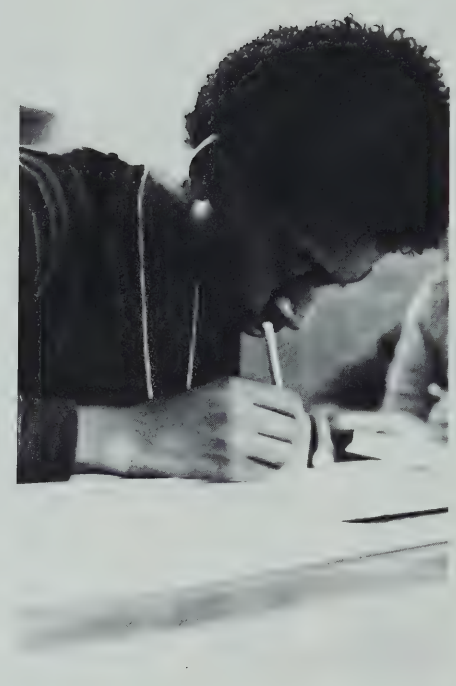
Academics

The wide variety of academic classes at CRLS gave us a chance to learn about many different subjects. Students found specific interest which they wanted to explore after high school. Others discovered that they were not seeking the highest academic goals but social ones. These too were provided for our students. The students and teachers worked together, each learning from the other. The academic opportunities at CRLS opened up several channels of instruction. These included the Social Sciences, Mathematics, Modern Languages, English and the Arts. The multitude of extra-curricular offering made school more enjoyable for most students.







Sharing with friends and teachers made life at CRLS meaningful. Helping each other in many ways and trying to understand when things didn't go as planned helped us to reach maturity.

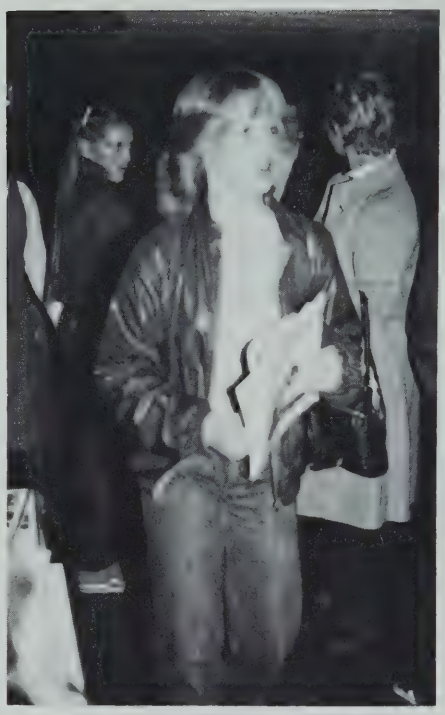
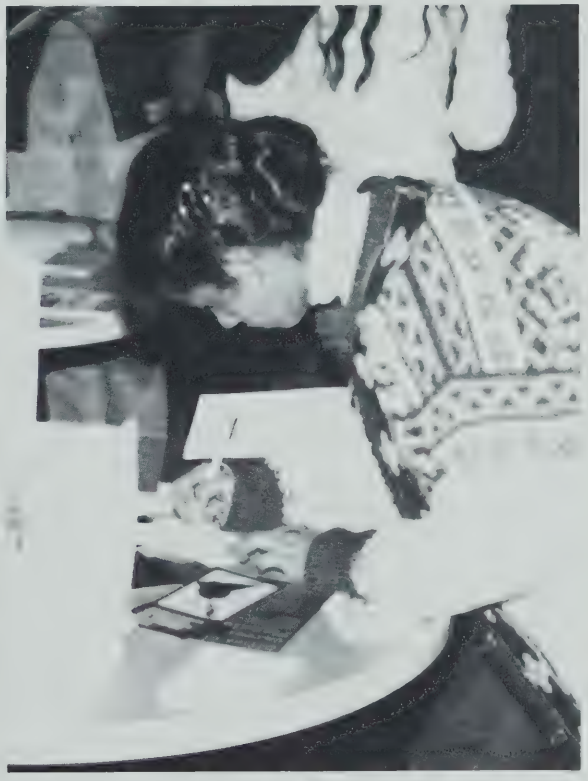
COLLEGE NIGHT

College Night was a wonderful way to introduce students to the many colleges which they considered as college-bound seniors. Many seniors took advantage of the fair which ran from 7 — 9 PM in the cafeteria. Representatives of colleges from Massachusetts and other states had information tables. Conferances, pamphlets, and mailing lists were all great sources of information. The students got the opportunity to investigate the variety of classes, special programs, financial aid policies and other general information about the colleges. It helped seniors to realize their options and help them to look toward future goals.





CRLS College Night
October 5, 1981

Even though school is designed to prepare one academically for the future, the social aspects of our high school years can't be overlooked. We came to the high school from different elementary schools and communities, we soon made friendships that would last forever. To many of us the experiences shared with friends are some of the fondest memories we have of high school. They made getting out of bed each morning worth it.

DEDICATION

Ms. Ruby Pierce

Mr. Joe Ferolito

Did you make the check out for the bus company?? Is everything ready for the Prom?? Have the sweatshirts come in yet?? You guys don't have it together yet — I'm leaving and I'll return once you do!!

Patience, determination, inspiration, and the ability to endure when all signals say — Forget it!! These are the qualities needed to be Class Advisor. The Class of 1982 was fortunate to have two persons who displayed these virtues over the past two years. They engineered a successful class trip, numerous fund raisers, and fostered a spirit of cooperation and growth in the Class Leadership. They made the past two years more enjoyable and productive.

They didn't always agree with what we suggested, but always listened. They provided guidance without being dictators. They provided leadership without seeking complete control.

In recognition and appreciation of their dedication, inspiration, and support, the Class of 1982 proudly dedicates the 1982 Yearbook to Ms. Ruby Pierce and Mr. Joe Ferolito. The gifts of time and energy were most valuable — Thanks.

1982 Yearbook Staff.

The 1981 CRLS football team began the year in the best form possible. They won the first two games defeating Quincy and Weymouth. The spirit of the team was at an all-time high. In their encounter with a highly ranked Boston College High, they fought brilliantly before losing in the fourth quarter. From this point the season went downhill. They took on the Suburban League superpowers of Brocton, Newton North and Waltham losing all. Thus a most promising season ended with disappointment.

Advisor's Comments

This Yearbook is the result of hard work by many members of the Class of '82. Those pictured on these pages, along with Brenda Hirtle, Diane Burke and Maria Mancini, contributed the lion's share, but the efforts of so many more allowed us to complete this task. To name them all would be impossible, but to them my deepest thanks. We have made mistakes, those of omissiom and comission, but our goal was to produce a publication that you would be proud of. We hope that as you look back over the year and look at what we have done, a smile, a pleasant thought and little joy will come over you.

Over the past six years I have labored as Yearbook Advisor. During this time our yearbooks have improved greatly and the friendships made will last forever. Each of us must at some point choose a time to move on and pursue other interests. I have chosen this time to so. I hope that you will enjoy this yearbook and the pleasure you will recieve from it last forever.

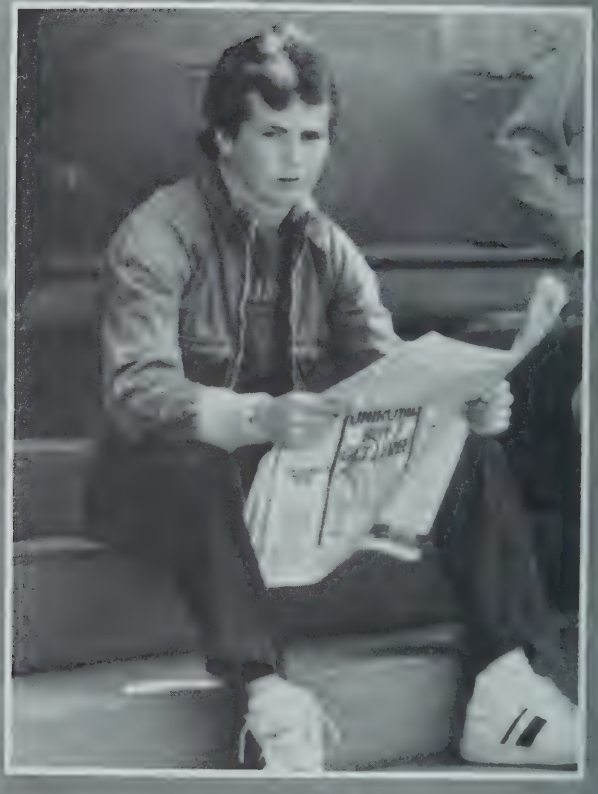
In Memoriam

Scott Edge ... Class of '83

Scott departed this life on June 26, 1981. His death was a shock to friends and family. His smile, words of understanding and humor are lost to us forever, but we are glad that he shared them with us during his short stay in this life.

"Death removes the physical Being from our Presence,
The Spirit and the Memory are with us Forever"



Michael Knee ... Class of '83

Michael's death as a result of a tragic accident stunned his friends and members of the CRLS staff. He was a very active young man who enjoyed a good time with his friends. He had seen both bad times and good times, at his death he was experiencing some of those good times, thus it appears ironic that he would called from us during this period. Michael will be missed by those who loved and cared for him most but they will cherish the time they were allowed to walk in his mist.

"Death makes us all realize the importance of Life"

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1982, Being of unsound mind, do hereby bequeath the following to those we leave to toil behind:

Ms. Rehfield ... An all girl Math and Computer Science Team.

Mr. Lannon ... Some way to find relief from Prop 2½ so that we can keep our teachers.

Ms. Johnson ... A private office, just for you ...

Mr. Greenidge ... A football team that plays as well as you Ski.

Ms. Curry ... A homeroom like the one you have had for the four years.

Mr. Hurley, Mr. Sullivan ... A year's supply of bubble gum.

Mr. Ferolito ... A lifetime supply of clogs from Ditto's.

Ms. Pierce ... A pedestal for someone who is highly thought of.

Ms. Kervick ... A year's supply of chalk.

Ms. Goulart ... A class that will like and Eat what they cook.

Mr. Weinstein ... A new walk.

Mr. Samp ... Enough judges and timers for a swim meet.

Mr. Kimbrough ... Happiness is never having to share a room with Ms. J.

Mr. Krasnow ... A week end without skiis.

Mr. Clinton ... A quiet classroom.

Mr. Cocoluto ... A class that laughs at his jokes.

Mr. Lukas ... A room where students can always find him.

Mr. Morgan ... Lots of Luck with next years Seniors.

Ms. Chapman ... Good luck with the expected arrivals?

Ms. Ford (Ma) ... Likewise, but quadruplets to replace Jackie, Lillian, Jill and Susan on the cheering squad.

Mr. Murphy ... The best of everything in the future.

Mr. Ponte ... A Hell of a Good time with your Generic sailboat and Generic beer.

Mr. Jimmy Smith ... A new set of jokes and much success telling them.

Mr. Jarvis ... A Ewing double to make life a little easier.

All Coaches ... 1001 ways to cope with Dr. Brown.

Dr. Brown ... 1001 ways to cope with coaches.

Underclassmen ... A chance to follow one of the greatest, most unique classes in the history of CRLS ... The Class of '82. The Battle is not over until its over.

To all the remaining staff members of Cambridge Rindge and Latin School ... A little bit of Sanity, which is about all we have to Spare. Thanks for being Here

EPILOGUE

Life develops in numerous phases. Each phase either adds to or detracts from our total being.

The four years we studied here at Cambridge Rindge & Latin have done both for many of us. Whether positively or negatively, CRLS has influenced our lives.

We have met many people at CRLS, some we call friends, some acquaintances, some we would rather totally forget. Either way they were a part of our Learning Experiences.

Thus four years have passed and we must move on to the next phases of our lives.

We are unsure of what the future holds, or whether we are all adequately prepared for it; but the future is upon us — We must face it. Thus we depart Cambridge Rindge & Latin.

Our departure saddens us but what we have learned here gives us the courage to leave: We leave knowing that success can be attained.

CRLS Adieu
